Key Information

World Book Day was a wonderful celebration of stories, imagination and the joy that reading brings to our school community. It was lovely seeing the children dressed up as their favourite book characters, bringing much-loved stories to life with such creativity and enthusiasm. Throughout the day, the children enjoyed a range of engaging activities linked to reading, designed to inspire curiosity and deepen their understanding of different texts. They had valuable opportunities to read independently, explore new authors and discover genres they may not have chosen before. It was fantastic to see such excitement around books and to hear the lively conversations taking place in classrooms. We encourage you to support your child at home to develop their love of reading by listening to them read regularly, discussing stories together and making reading a special and enjoyable part of your daily routine.

Helping your child use YouTube and YouTube Kids safely

YouTube is hugely popular with children. It can be fun, creative and educational, but like any online space, it isn't risk free. Even apps designed for children, such as YouTube Kids can sometimes show content that isn't for younger viewers.

What parents and carers should know about the risks

Most children start by watching something completely harmless. The risk usually comes from how the platform works, not from what they set out to watch. Some common ways children can come across unsuitable content include:

- Autoplay: one video can quickly lead to another without your child choosing it.
- Search: children might search for something innocent but get unexpected results.
- Adverts: young children can struggle to tell the difference between adverts and videos.

Even YouTube Kids, while safer, is not perfect because content is filtered by systems rather than checked by a person first.

A helpful mindset for parents and carers

It can help to think of YouTube like a busy public place. There are lots of great things there, but children still need guidance, boundaries and support while they learn how to navigate it safely. You don't have to know everything about technology. Staying curious, setting simple rules, and keeping conversations open are some of the most powerful safety tools you have.
